

University Open Events 2020-21

UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

Our next Undergraduate Open Days:

Saturday 28 November

Saturday 5 December

A host of activities planned to help you learn more about what life is like studying at the University of Birmingham. You can hear from our academics all about the courses that you're interested in (register for subject talks) and view our content on the event hub, much of which has been developed by our students for you. Join us online and we can't wait to virtually meet you!

Bringing our undergraduate open days to you...

As we are currently unable to hold events on campus, we wanted to bring our open days directly to you. To do this, we have designed an online open day packed with everything from insight on your course of interest, 3D tours and taster sessions to Q&As with lecturers, the chance to talk to support services about living and studying in Birmingham and more. We want to show you that with an undergraduate degree from University College Birmingham, it feels like nothing can stop you.

Follow the steps below, and discover more about what it's like to study with us.

Virtual Open Day on Saturday 21 November

Scientist? Doctor? Entrepreneur? Take your first step. Where it leads is up to you.

Whatever your ambition, we're with you all the way.

Normally at this time of year, we would invite you to attend an Undergraduate Open Day on our city-centre campus to see our fantastic facilities, meet our inspirational lecturers and chat with our wonderful students. For your safety, this isn't possible right now, but we're not letting that hold us back.

We've got a Virtual Open Day taking place on Saturday 21 November. Just like a regular open day, this is your chance to learn more about your course, life as a student in Birmingham, and our campus and facilities. You will have the chance to:

- Attend interactive, live subject sessions led by lecturers
- Ask lecturers and current students questions about your course
- Learn about Aston life from our students
- Chat to our admissions and finance teams
